4th visit by phony policeman

A fourth report of a man dressed as a policeman attempting to obtain entry to a Quad-City home was made at 10:30 p.m. Saturday.
A 14-year-old girl was babysitting at a home in the 2800 block of Nameki Road when a man attempted to force open the back door.
Area police agencies have been searching for a man dressed as a policeman since he was reported as responsible for the rape of a Pontoon Beach housewife and threats against her two-year-old son Feb. 22.

Two other incidents of a man in a police uniform attempting unsuccessfully to enter Quad-City area homes occurred Feb. 26 and 27. They are believed related, as descriptions matched the description of the man involved in the rape case.
In the latest incident, the babysitter, who resides in the Cloverleaf Addition, south of Madison, said she saw a man in a uniform attempting to force open the rear door. She immediately called police, and the man fled in an auto.
Her description of the man matched the man being sought in connection with the other cases, but her descriptions of

Discuss overpass location tonight

A discussion of location alternatives for construction of a proposed overpass between downtown Granite City and West Granite City will be thrown open to the public tonight in an informational meeting at Prather Junior High School cafeteria.

The meeting will open at 8 p.m. under sponsorship of M. W. Inc., St. Louis planning engineering firm which has been retained by the city of Granite City to conduct a site study to determine the most feasible location for the proposed grade separation.
The choice for location of the overpass lies between Niedringhaus Avenue and 19th, 20th and 22nd streets. The engineering firm's survey will determine the most feasible site from the standpoint of cost, construction requirements and traffic flow.

The downtown overpass has been a long-standing city project, but had not been acted upon previously because of financing problems. Mayor Paul Schuler said the engineering work will be financed partly from funds the city expects to receive under the Community Development

New store downtown

A new store in downtown Granite City, the Boutique II by HG, is being prepared for a mid-April opening at the site of the former Heiman's Clothing Store, 1312 Nineteenth St.

Jim Heslov, president of Heslov Style Shop, Inc., said the new clothing store would be the third in his firm's chain.
Others are Heslov's Style Shop and Boutique by Heslov, both in Illinois.

The store here is to be managed by Bonnie Goldberger of St. Louis, associate buyer for all three stores and the sister of Jim Heslov. The name, the Boutique II by HG, includes the initials of the last names Heslov and Goldberger.

Heslov explained the new store is being decorated in garden greens and white with fern baskets, brick, latticework and distinctive wallpaper.
It will carry "moderate to better priced women's clothing, including Missy, half-size, junior and contemporary clothing." The lines will include sportswear, dresses, coats and accessories, the new manager said.

MARCH SNOWFALL dumped five inches of snow on the Quad-Cities and ten inches on some parts of the metropolitan area last night and this morning. Mrs. Jeanne Tooney, 1611 Third St., Madison, works today near her snow-covered auto to shovel off the sidewalk at her home. The view is facing west on Third Street.

'Catch-up' phone rate hikes sought

Rate requests filed Friday by Illinois Bell include provisions for the first step in a three-year program to realign telephone rates in the communities formerly served by Southwestern Bell, Tom Rich, local manager, told the Press-Record.
Proposed is an initial increase of 50 cents a month for residence telephone service and 51 a month for business service — the same increases as for other Illinois Bell-served communities with flat-rate local services.

Areas formerly served by Southwestern Bell and transferred this winter to Illinois Bell include the Quad-Cities. The rate changes would take effect when approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission, which has up to 11 months from March 7 to reach its decision.
"These initial residence and business service increases would be the first of three steps in bringing monthly rates to the same level as comparable communities served by Illinois Bell," Rich said.

"The company would seek an additional increase a year later — about February 1977 — and would seek a final adjustment where required in 1978."
"Also proposed is a general realignment of telephone equipment rates — including rate reductions where current rates in the former Southwestern Bell communities are higher than the rates elsewhere in Illinois Bell's operating territory."
"If approved, most of these changes would be effective in mid-1976."

Illinois Bell service offerings not currently available would also be offered in these communities at the same time," Rich added.
In its formal rate increase request filed Friday, Illinois Bell Telephone Company said that most of the rate increase it is seeking would apply to "pay as you use" services and those which are optional.
Only about 10 per cent of the proposed charges would affect basic rates, according to James E. Olson, president of Illinois Bell.

The company's previous week announced its intention to file for new rate adjustments after the Illinois Commerce Commission denied the company's cost-efficiency adjustment plan — a unique pricing concept that would provide for small monthly decreases or increases in phone bills.
Olson outlined details of the request which the company submitted Friday to the Illinois Commerce Commission.
"First, we seek approval to raise rates by $65 million a year to pay for cost already known, committed and unavoidable for 1975 — among them the additional wage bill coming due on our labor contracts."

"Second, we seek additional rate relief to get us to a level of earnings adequate in today's economy to continue to provide reliable service. Our best estimate today is that an additional $115 million in new revenues will be required."
"Our overall proposal of $178 million reflects that estimate."

"But let me add that the cost and revenue estimates will be replaced later with actual current results, so that the commission has up-to-date information on which to base its decision."
"Included in the proposals are a 20-cent charge for directory assistance calls over three per month, timing local calls in Chicago and increasing local coin phone calls to 20 cents."

Directory aid will not cost for assistance beyond the local area code.
Citing the escalating cost of providing reliable telephone service since current rates went into effect Jan. 1, 1974, "Olson asserted that in most recent years, Illinois Bell has been pressed to the wall by inflation."
"In five of the last six years," he said, "we have been unable to maintain the level of earnings

Area hit by 5-in. snowfall

A five-inch snowfall surprised Quad-Cityans Sunday night, but they took it in full stride after experiencing two similar ice and snow storms within the last two months.
Snow began falling Sunday evening, lightly but steadily, continuing throughout the night and into early today. The U.S. Weather Service at St. Louis predicted the snow would end by this afternoon, with only slight chances of rain or snow on Tuesday.

The heavy snowfall packed streets and highways Sunday night, but street department crews in the Quad-Cities and state highway maintenance crews worked throughout last night and early this morning to make all major roads passable.
Most highways were cleared by plowing by early today, but motorists were slowed by ice-slick spots in many areas.
Side streets were difficult to travel in some sections, but job absenteeism was at a minimum.

Public and parochial schools in Granite City were closed for the day, but all schools in Venice and Madison were open, including the St. Mary-St. Mark parochial schools. School buses were in operation there. SUE classes also were dismissed.
The snow varied in density throughout the metropolitan area, ranging up to ten inches. Granite City police received 55 calls between 6 a.m. and 9 a.m. from persons inquiring whether the schools would be open.

Surprisingly only three accidents occurred on Granite City streets last night and during the early morning hours today. Traffic was observed moving steadily this morning, as cars on most main streets had turned the snow into a thick slush.

Side streets remained snow covered and slippery this morning. Only one accident was reported in Madison.
Granite City Street Supt. Lionel Portell said he called out two crews of two men each at 7 p.m. to spread salt and cinders, and at midnight called out two more crews and a grader operator.
He said that throughout the night and early today the workers spread 50 tons of salt and 50 tons of cinders.
Madison street workers were called out at 4 a.m. and Venice crews started work at 6 a.m. today.

The Weather Service predicted temperatures in the mid-30s today, rising to the 40s and 50s later in the week. Chance of rain is predicted Wednesday and Thursday.
The Quad-Cities were hit on Jan. 13 by a half-inch snowfall which froze on street and highway pavements, creating traffic jams.
A four-inch snowfall hit the area Feb. 23, also creating major problems for motorists but little other damage.

Tickets for 2 tourney teams

With Granite City High School North competing this week in Class AA basketball sectional tournament competition and Venice competing in a Class A Supersectional game, officials at both high schools have announced plans for making tickets available to local fans.
"Tickets for tomorrow's North-Alton game at 7:30 p.m. at East of St. Louis High School are available from 6:30 to 8 o'clock tonight at the school office at a cost of $2 per person."

Providing GC-HS North wins tomorrow, tickets for the sectional title contest on Friday between North and the winner of Wednesday's Belleville-West-East St. Louis game are to be on sale from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday through Friday.
Venice school officials report that tickets for tomorrow's

Venice-Carmi supersectional title game at Charleston will be available to Red Devil fans until five o'clock today at a cost of $2 per person at Supt. Robert Vickers' office, located at Seventh Street and Broadway.
Providing Venice wins tomorrow, tickets would then be available at Supt. Vickers' office today Wednesday and Thursday, beginning at 7:30 a.m., at a cost of $3 per person for Venice's 12:15 p.m. class Friday with the Decker supersectional winner in the opening session of the Class A state finals at Champaign.
Fans wishing to attend the eight-game session at Champaign can purchase additional tickets at a cost of $9 per ticket for each session of the state finals, if their school is one of the eight contenders.

Parker is next Smith president

John R. Parker, 57, a 36-year veteran with A. O. Smith Corp., has been nominated to become president of the company.
Parker, chairman and chief executive officer, said he will recommend to the board of directors that it elect Parker as president at its meeting April 10.

Parker also has been nominated to become a director of A. O. Smith, and that election is to take place at the company's annual meeting April 9.
Smith said U. T. Kuehse, 64, president of A. O. Smith since 1967, was nominated to be vice chairman of the board of directors, also effective April 10. Kuehse is retiring at year-end.

Parker said that by nominating Parker to become president effective April 10, the company is assured of a smooth transition.
Parker will be the chief operating officer of the company, Smith said. Kuehse will remain chairman but will spend most of his time concentrating on long-range planning for the corporation.
Smith also announced that Robert L. Miller, 47, a retired senior executive vice president

JOHN R. PARKER of RCA Corp. will not be standing for re-election to the board of directors. Parker will fill the seat being vacated by Miller. A. O. Smith is the world's largest manufacturer of automobile and truck frames, the leading producer of petroleum measuring systems and the major manufacturer of automated animal processing and storage

Equal Rights objectors harassed

Persons believed to be supporters of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) have been harassing members of the Graceland General Baptist Church, 2003 Johnson Road, according to the Rev. Earl Lovejoy, pastor.
A large poster with obscene language printed in large letters was found last week in the front doorway of the church. Other incidents reported to police included the breaking of four windows in the church bus which is parked on the church parking lot.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Past Exalted Rulers Association of the Granite City Lodge 1063. Orville Hodge, chairman of the event, noted there will be no long speeches, and "lots of entertainment."
The speaker will be Bob Starr, billed as the "radio voice of the St. Louis Football Cardinals and the Missouri University Tigers."

continue to fight passage of ERA regardless of these tactics and threats," Rev. Lovejoy said.
A delegation of 300 local citizens went by buses and private car last week to register protests against the Equal Rights Amendment at the legislative session in Springfield.
Rev. Lovejoy reported that when they arrived at the state capital, the delegation divided into groups which called on several state legislators.
The issue was to have been voted on last week, but supporters of the legislation did not bring the issue to a vote when they determined they were lacking sufficient votes to carry the issue.
Rev. Lovejoy said, "When it comes up again we will go to Springfield again to voice our objections."
Members of Graceland General Baptist Church organized the local protest trip to Springfield.

Planning agency duties often misunderstood, Rotarians told

The role of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission (SIMRPC) is misunderstood frequently, two commission representatives told the Madison Rotary Club last week.
Laird Starick, director of general planning, and Robert Wydra, director of environmental planning at SIMRPC spoke at a meeting of the club in the Madison Recreation Center.
The speakers reviewed a general land use plan for Madison County and explained their theories on economic and commercial development of the area.
The men claimed their organization frequently is painted as opposing development in the Mississippi bottoms area, but that is not true. The Rotarians were told SIMRPC primarily is a vehicle for federal and state grants.
A discussion on the area's high water table was held and Starick and Wydra said their are many theories as to the cause. Some believe it is due to industry not using water from underground sources and others claim the water has been traced as coming here from as far away as Wisconsin and Lake Michigan in underground channels, they said.
The club secretary reported that the club had a 79 per cent attendance during the month of February.
President John Blasingame announced that there will be no regular meeting Wednesday. He asked the members to attend a meeting at the Nameoki Recreation Center, 200 Popoon Road, where Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state of Illinois, will speak Tuesday.
The meeting Tuesday is a meeting of the Granite City Rotary club which has invited other service clubs to attend.
Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr., former state superintendent of public instruction for Illinois, has arranged for Howlett's appearance in the area and is the program chairman.

Madison stage roles led to Broadway, Hollywood career for Bernadine Hayes

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
From "Ten Nights in a Barroom" at the former Madison movie theater to a network radio show, Broadway's glittering lights and the glamorous world of Hollywood in its star-studded heyday. Can it really happen? It did to Bernadine Hayes of Madison. Miss Hayes recently returned to her hometown to visit local relatives and was the house guest for several weeks of her cousin, Bill Burns, who owns and operates Bill Burns Cafeteria, 1218 Nineteenth St. It was her first return to the Quad-City area since the early 1930s.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

"I didn't realize I had so many relatives, especially cousins," she exclaimed. "I found cousins all over the place — Livingston, Edwardsville and Venice." An articulate and vivacious person, Miss Hayes has many comments on the current world of entertainment, a world she has traveled through and known for a major portion of her lifetime.

Her show business experiences are formidable. They range from minor parts in stock company plays to the lavishly-staged musical productions on Broadway and films of earlier years when huge casts and well-known stars were synonymous.

"Today, you don't see the big productions... the musicals that had some class. I don't go to see that junk they've been putting out recently in Hollywood," she commented. "Hopefully, I think the trend is turning around a little from all the nudity and sex in movies. I believe they have so saturated the public that people are getting fed up."

"Maybe it's the young kids who are changing the current trend a little with this nostalgia thing they've got for the old music and things from the past. "I find young people love the old dance music. Would you believe that in New York City they are dancing cheek to cheek once again," she exclaimed. "It is so nice to see people getting dressed up once more and enjoying the style of music that makes you want to dance."

Miss Hayes is a definite authority on dancing, having performed in films and on stage with many box-office stars.

During her visit, she attended a performance of the current movie, "That's Entertainment," which features excerpts from many highly rated movies, including "Idiot's Delight," in which she appeared with Clark Gable, and "The Band Wagon," in which she appeared with Fred Astaire.

A segment from "Idiot's Delight," shown in the current movie, focuses on a dance sequence featuring Miss Hayes and Gable.

"It's the only time Gable ever danced in the movies and he hated every minute of it," she recalled. "Norma Shearer, a wonderful person, starred opposite Gable," she added. "I wasn't a star, but what they called a featured player," Miss Hayes explained.

Her career really started in St. Louis. But even before then she got her first taste of greasepaint as a 10-year-old "hanging around the Madison movie house on Third Street." "Once a week a stock company would put on a show," she related. "I guess they just grew tired of seeing me standing outside, because one night they asked if I wanted to be in the show."

It was the melodrama, "Ten Nights in a Barroom." "I had to be 'killed' in the play and the producer asked if I would be afraid. I wasn't worried a bit, I told him."

She recalls how "someone put cold cream and lipstick on my hand and showed me how to slap myself in the face to make it look like blood. They cautioned me not to have my hand around too much and get the stuff all over my clothes."

What did her parents think of her venture into show business?

"Mom thought it was alright; maybe she was a disappointed actress. We didn't tell Dad. He found out the next morning when he went to work at American Steel and some man said, 'I saw your little girl in a show last night.'"

Miss Hayes was born and reared in Madison and graduated from Madison High School. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin (Della) Hayes. The family lived in the 1600 block of Fourth Street.

As a child she frequently sang while playing records. "I loved to sing, but I wasn't much of a dancer," she said.

"I had nerve though and I went to Loewes State in St. Louis to try out for a dancing chorus after seeing an advertisement. It was the type of thing where they have 15 grand pianos on stage and a lot of glitter, a real big production."

She got the job! "I had to have more nerve when you are very young and one night when Mable Hollis, the big-time blues singer and star, failed to appear, I volunteered to fill in," Miss Hayes said.

"They sat me on a grand piano and I stayed there even after I was through singing. They had forgotten to tell me how to get off and leave the stage." She well remembers the song — "Can't Believe You're Mine."

She sang at the Arcadia Ballroom, at Grand and Olive, with the Arcadia Band. "This was rather a new thing to be a girl singer with a band," she recalls.

"I sang at a convention for the Chevrolet people and someone from Radio Station KMOX was there and hired me as a staff singer. Their studios were in the Mayfair Hotel. Is it true they've pulled the hotel down?" she asked.

Miss Hayes represented KMOX at an event in Chicago and while there joined the CBS affiliated station where she had her own 15-minute program each day, sponsored by O' Cedar Polish.

"I met young Bill Paley there. He must have been in his middle 20's," she said. (William S. Paley is now CBS board chairman).

She won a beauty-talent contest involving singers from different Chicago radio stations. The prize was a trip to New York.

Miss Hayes stayed in New York after getting a part in her first play, "Mother Songs."

"The Press have always been wonderful to me... they are a wonderful breed of people... I got good notices from them and MGM Studio brought me to California for a test."

She was under contract to MGM for seven years. Unfortunately, she got her big break at a bad time. Not only for the movie industry but the entire country. The year was 1929.

"It wasn't easy to break into movies so I worked as an extra. We earned $7.50 a day and that was a lot of money at that time. In those days, there wasn't any Actors Guild either and we had to go to work at 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning."

Miss Hayes is a charter member of the Screen Actors Guild. "It was the extras who started the Guild and after we got it going the stars walked in and took over. I guess all that doesn't matter now as everyone is protected," she said.

She performed at the Pasadena Playhouse in such productions as "3 Men on a Horse" and "Small Miracle."

"Pasadena is a wonderful training ground for future actors and stars still go there to work."

Her movie credits are too numerous to list. She played in "The Thin Man" series with William Powell and also in Hopalong Cassidy films.

"I've always loved a live audience so I took a bus to New York and went to work again on the stage. In New York, the actors got together at Sardi's and other places and you are with your people, California is so vast and the Los Angeles area so big we don't have that closeness there," she said.

"I was so thrilled with everything in my life for that was the golden era of show business. The people I've worked with... Siegfried... what a tremendous man."

"Gable... he was terrific. Cagney... what a great guy... Gladys... George..."

The names of the famous with whom she has worked flowed on and on.

Television was arriving in the 1940's, but to Miss Hayes the medium seemed to be a little unorganized after being with a big studio which thought for you and arranged your life just so.

She appeared in the early TV series, "I Am the Law," starring George Raft, who she remembers fondly as a nice guy. "The public didn't like him as a lawman. They preferred him in gangster roles, so they cancelled the series," she said.

"I did some TV work then went to Chicago and joined the cast of "Goodnight Ladies" which had a 3 1/2-year run.

"I've always wanted to go to England. They have such fine repertory theatre system there, where the greatest stars and aspiring actors perform together."

"I never did get over there, but I did get to Australia in 1952. I went and stayed a while, but Miss Hayes said,

"We took the first full company of American performers ever to appear in Australia. It was the "Goodnight Ladies" cast from Chicago. We performed at the Tivoli Theatre in Melbourne, a city which is a mixture of old and new, a truly wonderful place."

The former resident has a daughter, Mrs. Madeline Mollen, and four grandchildren, who live near her in Westchester, a suburb of Los Angeles.

Listening to Miss Hayes one gets the impression that in spite of her claim to be enjoying her present leisurely life style... she is one heartbeat away from the "boards."

Let anyone offer her a part and watch how quickly she responds.

Authorize four learning centers

Approval for the installation of learning centers for the 1975-76 school year at Frohardt, Johnson, Logan and Stallings elementary schools was given by the Granite City Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday night.

Before the 1974-75 school year, learning centers were added at Lake, Marshall, Parkview and Webster schools, with a promise from the board that the final four schools not having the centers would have them for the 1975-76 school year.

The board also approved a request from Owen E. Humphrey, curriculum coordinator, that spring parent-teacher conferences be held only if the teacher feels the student is not making satisfactory progress or when the parent requests a conference because of a problem.

Murphy said that the $5,000 appropriated for conferences during this school year, $4,927 was expended just for the fall conferences.

The decision the board reached Monday night applies only to the spring conferences.

The board approved dates for an open house at the home constructed by building trades class students on Clark Street at Maryville Road. The house is for sale.

The public will be welcome to other devices where various methods of testing can be used. Studies of previous learning centers in the district have shown excellent results, school officials have said.

A report from Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent of the school district, noted that space is available at Frohardt and Johnson schools without building modifications, but minor modifications will be required at Logan and Stallings schools.

School district personnel will make the necessary changes, he noted. He requested that the board begin the process of seeking bids for the learning center items within the next 30 days so the centers can be completed for the opening of the schools in the fall.

Switches plea after sentencing

An unusual turn of events occurred last week in Monroe County Circuit Court at Waterloo as Jackie Reed McLean, 35, Collinsville, a former Granite City resident, switched his plea on a burglary charge from guilty to innocent after he received a greater sentence than he had anticipated.

State's Attorney Robert Murphy said this week he does not understand why Circuit Judge Alvin Maeys accepted the innocent plea after the completion of sentencing. "No reason was given," Murphy said.

He added, "If McLean's attorney wants a trial, it makes no difference. We are ready."

Murphy had recommended that McLean receive a three to nine year sentence and McLean's attorney had recommended a one to three year sentence.

Judge Maeys cited a lengthy arrest record and sentenced McLean to six to 18 years in prison. At that point, McLean said he did not understand the proceedings and requested that his plea be changed to innocent.

McLean, Jerry Motley, 32, and Michael James Everright, 19, all of Collinsville, were charged with burglary in when they will be opened. The Board of Education then will consider the bids at its April 15 meeting.

The administration was granted permission to have a brochure on the new house prepared to aid in the sale.

Hearing tomorrow

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct an on-site public hearing at 9:40 a.m. tomorrow at 1937 Sken St., East Madison, where Mary Jane Yates Allen and Dorothy Nemeth are requesting a special use permit to establish a kennel. The property is in an R-1 single-family residential district of Nameki Township.

MINOR FIRE DAMAGE

The Long Lake fire department was called last week to the trailer home of Leigh Margeter at Lakeside airport. Firemen said damage was minor. A heat tape around water pipes caught fire. Firemen were at the scene about 45 minutes.

Granite City High School North basketball coach William Ohlendorf, who two years ago guided his Class A Venice team to third place in the state finals, on Friday led his Class AA GCHS North Steelers past a top-seeded Collinsville team to capture regional honors with a 49-48 win over the host Kahoks.

The player of the hour at Collinsville was Tom Schocker, a 6-5 junior, who only saw four seconds of action in the thrill-packed contest.

His last-second field goal at the buzzer gave GCHS North continued life in the Class AA tournament series, advancing the Steelers to the East St. Louis sectional tournament against Alton at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

North, after having led 10-0 and then trailed 25-23 and 38-34 at the quarters, edged ahead of the Kahoks in the title contest by 46-44, with little more than a minute left in the final period.

Collinsville tied the game with a pair of charity tosses by Gary Shasteen.

An added pair of free throws by Mark Richter with 28 seconds remaining gave Collinsville a 48-46 margin.

Steelers Darrel Page narrowed the deficit to 48-47 with a foul shot and Collinsville threatened to stretch its lead when Kahok Bill DuHadway stepped to the line for a one-and-one with 10 seconds showing on the clock.

North's Mike Waldo took the rebound of DuHadway's missed shot and Coach Ohlendorf immediately called time out to send Schocker into the game.

Schocker had proven himself a clutch shooter earlier in the 1974-75 season at the Edwardsville holiday tournament against the host Tigers. In that contest, he provided the Steelers with a 77-73 victory by making a 15-foot last-second baseline shot.

After the timeout discussion, Greg Gauen brought the ball inbounds in the backcourt and fired a pass to Schocker, who hit the net with 20-footer as the buzzer sounded. The two-point goal changed the one-point deficiency to a one-point victory.

The jammed-packed Fletcher gymnasium went wild as Steelers fans poured onto the court to congratulate the North players and then join hands to sing North's school song while some of the players retrieved the basket nets.

One of the nets was quickly draped around Schocker's shoulders.

North's first-quarter lead was aided by Collinsville's shooting. The Kahoks missed their first nine shots and hit only three of 13 field goal attempts in that period.

Collinsville took the halftime lead on the scoring efforts of Shasteen and Richter.

North regained the lead in the last quarter, 39-37, on a couple of rebound baskets but the Kahoks threatened to win the game on free throws which never found their marks.

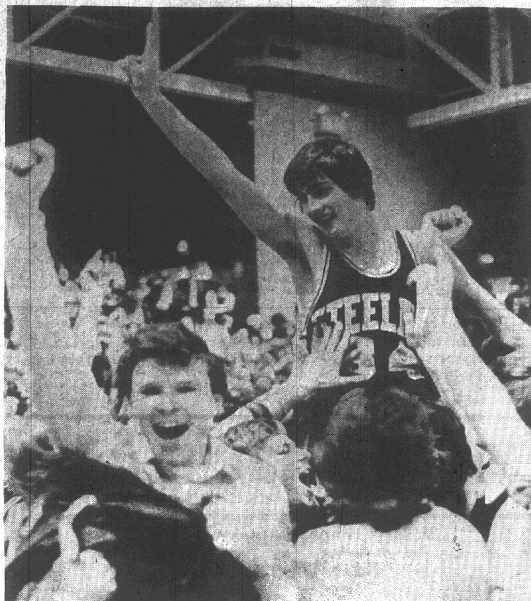

Overall, North shot 43 percent from the field, making good 19 of 44 shots. Collinsville was 16 of 50 for 32 percent.

From the foul line, North hit 11 of 19 times and Collinsville hit 12 of 24.

North was guilty of only four turnovers in the last half of play and gave the ball up 15 times during the contest. Collinsville had 10 turnovers.

The Steelers defense effectively bottled up Collinsville's inside scoring punch of Shasteen and Richter, holding the high-scoring Shasteen to 23 points and Richter to 14.

Those who put points on the board for North, other than Schocker, were: Larry Jones 18, Darrel Page 14, Mike Waldo 13 and Greg Gauen, two.

North's victory snapped Collinsville's 10-game winning streak and ended the Kahoks' bid for a fourth consecutive regional title.

Collinsville's season record ended at 20-6 while North climbed to 19-9 going into tomorrow's sectional class with the Alton Redbirds, who have a 19-6 season mark thus far.

Alton advanced to the East St. Louis sectional by defeating Bethalto 92-71 Friday at Hillstoro on the pointmaking of 61 senior Mike Robinson, 3-0 senior Mark Tyler and Justin Scheiter, Leroy Stampey and Maurice Williams. Scheiter led Alton's attack with 19 points and 13 rebounds.

Advancing also to sectional competition at East St. Louis after winning regional crowns Friday were Belleville West, which downed Mascoutah 75-59 in the Belleville East regional, and East St. Louis, which downed East St. Louis Lincoln 106-89 in the Flyers' own regional.

North and Alton, which have never met in regular season play, begin the East St. Louis sectional at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

On Wednesday, West, with a 21-6 record, and East St. Louis, 19-6, meet at 7:30 p.m.

Winners of these contests will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday to vie for the sectional title, with the victor advancing to AA super-sectional play at Carbondale Central High School March 18 to decide a state tournament entry.

GC team in title game

The P and S Amusement team of the Granite City Amateur Ice Hockey Club will meet Affton, Mo., at 8:30 p.m. today at St. Charles for the championship of the St. Louis Area Ice Hockey tournament.

P&S undefeated in 51 outings, advanced to today's title game in blanking Kirkwood 3-0 Saturday in a semi-final contest. Affton downed Webster Groves 4-2 Saturday to move into title contention.

Todd Morland scored unassisted in the first period, John Krekovich added a goal in the second period and Ray Deien tallied the final goal in the last period. Goalie Frank Prsha held Kirkwood scoreless.

Red straight sectional crown sends Red Devils to Charleston

The Venice Red Devils rolled Friday to their third straight sectional championship at Vandallia with a two-goal-for-comfort 48-42 win over unbeaten Nokomis.

The Nokomis quintet rallied strongly in the final minutes of play but never caught up.

Venice, ranked second statewide, earned the right to meet Carmi at the Charleston sectional tomorrow night. To-ranked Chicago Christian was upset 55-50 Friday by Lamont High School.

In the contest at Vandallia, the estimated 3,400 fans never saw Venice step to the free throw line during the first half of play as the flow of play proceeded smoothly.

The first quarter ended in a 12-12 deadlock, and the Red Devils then outshot Nokomis from the field, 6-5, for a 24-23 halftime margin.

Red Devil Jeff Corrie hit three field goals and two charity tosses in the third period to spark Venice to a 35-29 lead going into the final period.

Nokomis narrowed the Red Devil lead to 40-38 when Darold Johnson hit on a 12-foot jump shot and Greg Parsons hit both ends of a one-and-one after being fouled, all within 10 seconds of play.

The Devils pulled away, but Nokomis again refused to yield. With 1:28 remaining, Johnson hit a 10-footer, closing the gap to 45-40. Two charity tosses by Mark Adden made it 43-42.

Venice was held to two field goals and hit four of 13 free throws in the last quarter. Nokomis made good four baskets and meshed five of 10 foul shots but failed on two free throws with 27 seconds remaining.

With five seconds left to play, Venice threw the ball out of bounds on a pass attempt, giving Nokomis a chance at victory with a possible last-second basket.

Corrie had brought the ball downcourt, with Nokomis pressuring him with its full-court defensive press.

Corrie and James Turner engaged in a game of catch at the right side of the court until a missed pass gave Nokomis the inbound play.

Adden passed the ball to Steve Genet near the sideline, but a shot at the net never materialized, as officials ruled Genet's foot was out of bounds on the play. This turned out to be over to the Red Devils who ran out the clock.

Foul trouble had hampered the Venice squad in the closing minutes.

Venice shot 39 per cent from the field, making 12 of 31 attempts, and netted nine of 18 foul shots. Nokomis hit 16 of 52 field shots and 10 of 21 charity tosses.

Each team committed 20 fouls and Venice was guilty of the most turnovers, 15-7. The Red Devils played the boards well to recover 35 rebounds to Nokomis's 25.

The Red Devil defense held Earl Alexander to 15 points and 6-5 Johnson to 10 for Nokomis. Scoring for Venice: Corrie 14, Turner 11, Reggie Gardner 10, Mike Henry six and James Crowder, two.

Henry and Crowder both left the game in the final period after committing five fouls each. Nokomis finished with a 27-1 record.

The Red Devils, now with a second record, will be after their second sectional win in three years at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday when they meet Carmi at Charleston.

Carmi is 21-6 on the season after downing Bridgeport 66-48 Friday in the Bridgeport sectional title contest.

Nokomis' game is at Eastern Illinois University at Charleston.

Man bound, robbed in motel room

Ken Dorech, Overland Park, Kan., reported that he was robbed in his motel room at the Travelodge, 19th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Dorech said he was alone in his room when he was awakened by a woman named Barb who was in his room about 45 minutes earlier and had asked if a woman named Barb was there. He left when he found out the woman was not there.

When he returned, he asked if the same woman was there and Dorech told him he must have been the wrong room, it was related. Dorech said the man then displayed a small pistol and ordered him to go into the room and kneel down beside the bed.

Dorech said he complied, but slipped several hundred dollars from his pocket and hid it under the bed. The gunman then tied Dorech's hands behind his back with a towel and asked him where his money was. Dorech said his money was on the dresser and he gave him about $18 cash and his checkbook, it was related.

The robber began to remove Dorech's watch, but he convinced him not to take it, he told authorities.

The robber then told the victim to wait five minutes about he left before calling police. He left the room but returned moments later, stayed a moment and left a second time, Dorech related.

He described the robber as being in his late 20s, dressed in a blue leisure suit, about 5 feet tall, weighing about 135 pounds and having light brown hair.

Visitation of music classes planned in all GC schools

"Music in our Schools Day" will be observed Thursday in all Granite City schools.

Parents will have an opportunity to meet with the music teachers and learn of the Lawrenceville, 63-57, in the eventual state champion.

Two years ago, the local Red Devils finished third in the Class A (720 enrollment and less) state tourney.

Carmi, which utilizes a man-to-man defense, has a "super play" in Mark Winter, who is 6-4 and is averaging 23 points per game.

"Carmi," remarks Venice Coach Richard Essington, "is a pattern play ballclub. They like to set things up and keep the tempo of the game at a slow pace."

The Red Devil cage mentor believes his team's balanced scoring may help offset Carmi's defense, and that the opponents may have difficulty in matching up with Venices players at some positions.

The Charleston victor will become one of the "elite eight" in Class A basketball in the state finals this weekend at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall at Champaign.

Nokomis' game is at Eastern Illinois University at Charleston.

$150,000 flood aid received by levee district

A check for $150,000 in flood disaster funds was received last week by the East Side Levee and Sewerage District. The money represents a reimbursement for funds spent for repair of sewers which were damaged by the spring 1973 flood.

District President Jack Seville said the check brings to $72,000 the total of such money received thus far and that the district expects to receive another $240,000. He said the money will end a temporary financial crisis in the district.

William "Mike" Ebersold, mayor of Venice and a member of the five-man levee board of trustees, said the money will put the district in better financial condition when the time arrives to issue anticipation warrants.

Near-tornadoic wind damaged homes in the Blueberry Hills subdivision in Concord Village, near Interstate 55 and 270, in south St. Louis County at 1:30 a.m. Friday. ## News notes

With the Illinois Senate deciding last week that 36 of its 59 members must vote favorably to ratify the federal Equal Rights Amendment, a decision that virtually ended hope for Illinois ratification of the amendment.

The Illinois House on Thursday passed a bill that would enable Illinois National Guardsmen to attend community colleges and state universities free for four years after one year of service.

County tax sale due April 21

The annual Madison County real estate tax sale of delinquent property will be held at the courthouse in Edwardsville on April 21 by the office of County Treasurer George Musso.

A spokesman said the delinquency list will be published March 13 and any property on which taxes are not in the treasurer's office by that date will be listed in the delinquent list.

The taxes are sold on properties on which tax bills for the 1973 tax year have not been paid. Usually the sale is held in December, but a delay was encountered this year in preparation of the lists.

The U.S. will not prosecute a bid-rigging allegation March 17 against Hoeffken Brothers, a Belleville highway builder, because a witness, Vernon Travers of Florida, has suffered a heart attack and cannot testify for six months.

Flood disaster aid received

Granite City received a check for $177,000 in flood disaster aid Friday, bringing to $300,000 the total amount of claims paid by the U.S. government for repair of sewer breaks in the Nameeki area.

Mayor Paul Schuler who announced receipt of the funds said the payment brings the total amount of money received by the city for sewer repairs to 75 per cent of the total claimed.

At Nameeki and Johnson roads, his auto struck the rear of another car, causing only minor damage, it was reported. As Mosby was talking to police about the accident, he collapsed, officers said.

An ambulance was called to take him to the hospital.

Collapses after minor accident

A Leo Mosby Jr., 31, Brighton, was admitted to the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital in a coma after he became ill suddenly yesterday.

He called the hospital to report he was ill and had no one to drive him to the hospital so he was going to drive himself there.

At Nameeki and Johnson roads, his auto struck the rear of another car, causing only minor damage, it was reported. As Mosby was talking to police about the accident, he collapsed, officers said.

An ambulance was called to take him to the hospital.

Fewer job openings ahead for new engineers but more for accountants

Last fall, when prospects for employment in many fields looked grim, the outlook was bright for engineering candidates. However, halfway through this college term, cutbacks appear to have hit engineering as well.

David Van Horn, director of University Placement Services at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, reports that SIUE is one of the universities included in a new national survey conducted by the College Placement Council.

Compared to last year at this time, job offers to engineering students were down 6 per cent at the bachelor's degree level and 9 per cent at the master's degree level.

Two engineering disciplines withstood the downward trend in volume: at the bachelor's level, civil engineering rose 18 per cent over last year while chemical engineering went up 7 per cent, according to the survey.

In all curricula, bachelor's degree offers dropped 2 per cent. However, at the master's degree and doctoral levels, job offers were up 5 per cent over last year, Van Horn said.

Job offers for women at the bachelor's degrees level rose 12 per cent, while the volume of offers at the master's degree level went up 51 per cent. No doctoral offers for women were reported in the fields surveyed.

Small gains were made in the humanities and social sciences. The increases in both disciplines can probably be traced to the stepped-up recruiting of women, according to Van Horn.

Offers to accounting graduates advanced 15 per cent and the number of offers in agricultural sciences more than doubled.

The petroleum industry continued to dominate the job recruiting picture, with an 83 per cent increase in offers at the bachelor's degree level, Van Horn said.

Other employer groups registering gains were public accounting, metals, food and beverages processing, federal government, and local and state government.

Automotive and mechanical equipment, public utilities, research and consulting, and tire and rubber firms made only half the number of jobs offers they did a year ago.

Democrats vote on committee posts Thursday

Six local Democrats are among 46 candidates who vie for vacancies on the Democratic National Committee during voting at 1 p.m. Thursday at the Forum 30 Hotel, Springfield.

They are: Sam W. Wolf, 21 Bermuda Lane; Robert E. Walkenbach, 2741 Ralph St.; Lacie Kovach, 2500 Edwards St.; Roy L. Wilniz Jr., Mrs. Carole A. Kopie, 2207 Harvey Place; and William L. Gushoff, 1671 Fourth St., Madison.

Estes wants $3,000 wage boost

A request by Chouteau Township Highway Commissioner James Estes that his salary be increased to $9,000 per year plus expenses was taken under advisement by the Chouteau Town Board of Auditors last week.

Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks said his understanding was that any highway commissioner earning $7,500 per year or more had to be full-time, according to law.

Estes, who also is a Madison County deputy sheriff, makes $6,000 per year salary plus $100 per month expenses as highway commissioner. Sparks said the township attorney feels the wording "full-time" in the statutes indicates the highway commissioner would have to work full days with his men. Estes has indicated he does not wish to give up his deputy's duties.

The board agreed to give further consideration to the request at a later date. Sparks reported $1,350 in taxes has been received from the county treasurer in what may be the final payment for the town fund and general assistance fund for the 1973 tax year. Four persons attended the meeting who plan to construct homes in the township and asked about the progress of the proposed Four Township Sewer Plan.

Sparks said the sewer committee should have enough easement forms prepared by the end of this month to call a citizens' committee and request persons to go into the area and obtain fee easements for the new sewers.

The board changed the date of its next meeting from Monday, March 17, to Friday, March 14. It is to be held at 605 Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, at 7 p.m.

Formal offer to buy a home is binding

Warm weather brings out prospective home buyers by the droves. But before making an offer to buy a home, a person should be sure that it is right for his family and his bankbook, advises the Illinois State Bar Association.

A person's written offer to buy a home becomes a binding legal contract as soon as he signs it and the seller accepts it, according to the ISBA's pamphlet, "Buying A Home."

The pamphlet suggests that a formal offer or purchase agreement should include the following provisions:

- (1) Your offer — the amount you are willing to pay for the property.
- (2) The amount of money deposited with the contract as evidence of your good intentions.
- (3) Arrangement for paying off the balance, including a statement as to the interest rate, term and amount of any mortgage loan which is to be sought.
- (4) A cancellation clause

1948 dividend only a rumor

Newspapers in the Midwest have been asked to help the Veterans' Administration prevent the spread of a rumor that there is an insurance dividend due World War II veterans from the year 1948.

The rumor is circulating in the Chicago area, and mail is being received by the insurance center in Fort Snelling, Minn., from that area. In the last week of February, the center received 99 applications for the non-existent "dividend."

During the past year, 2,411 letters were received. And since the rumor first started making the rounds in January 1969, a total of 369,580 veterans have written.

"In view of the fact that there is no such 1948 dividend, it is time consuming and costly to the VA to respond to these inquiries," a spokesman pointed out.

The rumor rears its head periodically, usually in house bulletins, veterans' publications and bulletin boards.

At this time, the VA does not know who is circulating the rumor but hopes it can be stopped before a new avalanche of mail descends on the insurance center.

releasing you from the agreement and providing for return of your earnest money if financing cannot be obtained on the desired terms.

(5) A request for proof that the seller has a clear title and owns the property free of encumbrances such as unpaid taxes or liens for unpaid services of contractors or suppliers.

(6) The proration of taxes and other charges. The offer should specify who is going to pay taxes, assessments and other charges which may have accrued when the buyer takes possession.

(7) The dates for closing the transaction and possession by the buyer.

(8) A list of personal property included in sale. An itemized list of all movable articles which go with the house, including carpeting, drapes, awnings and storm windows.

(9) Provision for fire and extended coverage insurance protecting the buyer's interest up to the possession date.

If you have retained a real estate broker, he may prepare the purchase agreement for you by adapting a printed form to your particular transaction, the ISBA says. The broker's obligation is performed once the buyer and seller sign this document.

There is nothing to prevent a buyer or seller from acting in his own behalf. However, there is a danger of jeopardizing the sale or the interests of one or both parties if the persons closing the transaction lack a thorough knowledge of the laws relating to real estate, taxes, insurance, contracts and other subjects, it is believed.

For a free copy of the "Buying A Home" pamphlet, Quad-Cityans may write to the Illinois State Bar Association, Illinois Bar Center, Springfield, 62701.

Nameoki road budget $191,300

A tentative 1975-76 budget for the Nameoki Township Highway Department totaling $191,300, up $4,000 from last year's total of $187,300, has been posted for public display at the Nameoki Town Office, 4250 Highway 162.

The new budget will remain open to public inspection until March 25 when a public hearing will be held.

The appropriation bill sets up a total of $86,200 in the road and bridge fund and $85,000 in the permanent "hard road" fund. Other budget items include $10,300 for repair of bridges and $9,000 for the municipal retirement fund.

The road and bridge fund appropriation of $86,200 is a reduction of $12,500 below last year's appropriation of $98,700 for this account, but all of this is offset in the hard road fund which is increased $15,000, repair of bridges, up $300, and municipal retirement, up $1,800. Projected expenditures in the road and bridge fund include

Bicentennial grant deadline

The Illinois Bicentennial Commission has announced that April 15 is the current deadline for matching grant applications for bicentennial projects from federal and state bicentennial funds available to the Illinois Bicentennial Commission.

Sam Lilly, executive director of the IBC, urges interested local-level bicentennial commissions, agencies of government and tax-exempt not-for-profit corporations to obtain grant applications and $13,500 for administration, up from $18,000, and $42,000 for maintenance of roads, up from $37,500. Other items: maintenance of bridges $9,000, down from $15,000.

Guidelines from the IBC

Applications should reflect the matching principle, with the sponsoring agency providing at least 50 per cent of the total project cost.

Projects should have broad support and display innovative approaches, he said.

For complete guidelines, groups may contact the Illinois Bicentennial Commission at 410 N. Michigan, Room 1044, Chicago, Ill. 60611 (312-793-4381) or at the Old State Capitol, Springfield, Ill. 62706 (217-782-2262).

from $15,000; purchase of machinery $2,000, down from $5,500; repair of machinery $10,000, up from $9,000, and contingencies $3,400, down from $5,300.

The permanent road fund budget includes $8,300 for improvement and maintenance of hard roads, unchanged from last year, and $77,000 for maintenance of earth roads, up from $65,000. This projects a total of $85,300 in the hard road fund, up from last year's $70,800 total.

Public lecture here Thursday

How intelligent prayer leads to spiritual reality will be discussed in a free public lecture in Granite City Thursday evening.

Joseph G. Heard, a Christian Science teacher and lecturer from Miami, will note that the "desire to know what is real operates strongly in people."

He will speak in the Christian Science Church, 2560 Delmar Ave. at 8 p.m. Thursday under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist. The lecture is open to the public without charge.

Richard M. Marcotte will introduce the speaker. Local arrangements for the event are being handled by Mrs. Fred Ott, chairman of the lecture committee.

Prior to entering the public practice of Christian Science, Heard was an attorney in Florida.

He was educated at the University of Pennsylvania, Harvard Business School, and the University of Miami in Florida, where he earned his Juris Doctor Degree.

He served as manager of the Youth Division of the Department of Branches and Practitioners for The First Church of Guest tables featured red streamers on a white cloth used with small champagne glasses filled with red and white candy as favors.

Mrs. Sasyk was assisted in opening her gifts by Miss Barbara Ann Sasyk, Miss Carolyn Warchol, Miss Kim Smith, Miss Lisa Narvaez and Miss Debbie Bielicki.

The honoree received many gifts which were displayed on a table covered with red netting and canopied with a white lace umbrella and trailing white ribbons.

After the buffet luncheon served to 150 guests, games were played and prizes awarded, by hostesses Mrs. Barbara Carney, Mrs. Pat Bielicki and Mrs. Loretta Rakowski.

Overpass and Maryville Road issues—Parmley

Traffic improvements and territorial growth are among the key issues facing Granite City, in the opinion of Sixth Ward Alderman Gerald "Jerry" Parmley, unopposed for reelection April 1.

"For the past ten years, I have been an alderman in this ward, and I have the honor now of running unopposed," Parmley told the Press-Record.

"I'm very grateful to Sixth Ward voters for this honor. In the next four years, there are many things I would like to see the City Council and mayor bring about."

"The Maryville Road construction project is a 'must.' The Madison County Board has done a great deal of work to make this come about."

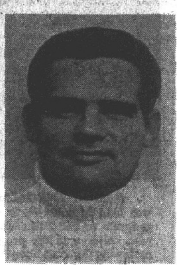

"The overpass into West Granite City should become a reality after 12 years of talk about it. Mayor Paul Schuler has worked very hard and has done his homework well in getting the grants it takes to do this project."

Alderman Parmley continued, "Annexation for the growth of this city is much needed."

"The three items—Maryville Road, the overpass and annexation—are only a few of the many things that I would like to see for the people of this city. 'As for campaign promises, I will make none. As I have said in the past, they are easy to make but hard to live up to."

"The only promise I can make is the one I know I can keep—to be a working alderman for the voters of the Sixth Ward."

Parmley, who is 43, resides at 3221 Willow Ave. He and his wife, the former Shirley

Insurance costs to be reviewed

A proposal to reduce the amount of insurance on Stallings and Washington elementary schools as well as on 12 portable classrooms is to be considered by the Granite City Board of Education when insurance bids are received this month.

Victor G. Anderson, comptroller, suggested last week that the two schools and the portable classrooms be insured for only their actual cash values rather than insuring them for the replacement cost, which has been past practice.

All other schools will continue to be insured for their replacement cost.

Anderson explained the total cash value of the two schools and portable classrooms is about $826,696, while the replacement cost has been estimated at $1,670,443. He said using the actual cash value for insurance would reduce the value of the property being insured by $843,747 and would cut the insurance premiums for those buildings by about half.

He estimated Stallings school would cost $475,999 to replace, using the existing foundation, but the cash value is only $241,144. The contents would cost $59,444 to replace but are worth only $30,715 in cash.

Washington School would cost an estimated $917,399 to replace on the existing foundation while cash value is $336,509. The contents are worth $50,077, but would cost $106,673 to replace, he said.

Portable classrooms would cost $15,485 to $15,670 to replace, but are worth only $12,545 to $12,845 in cash value.

Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis told the board he felt the district could provide educational services for the students if either Stallings or Washington School were destroyed, although some difficulties would be experienced.

The board instructed Anderson to seek bids for insurance on the two schools and the 12 classrooms, with prices quoted for both replacement cost and cash value. When the bids are opened, the board will study the differences to determine if the difference in premiums warrants the risks of reducing the insurance.

In other business, the board awarded contracts totaling $15,196 to seven companies submitting low bids to specifications on supplying custodial chemicals.

Firms receiving contracts, and the amount of each, were: Vental Laboratory, $8,280; Freemier Laboratory, $2,372; City Janitor Supply, $1,344; U. S. Paint, Lacquer & Chemical Co., $704; Custom Supply, $519; Foley Janitor Supply, $121; and Western Chemical Co., $1,864.

Ten firms were awarded contracts, on the basis of low bids to specifications, to supply athletic supplies costing a total of $11,715.

Contracts were awarded to: Black & Co., $113; Brothers Two, $289; Carlson Imports, $335; Champion Products, $665; Cohen Athletic, $271; Illini Sporting Goods, $4,113; J & N Distributing, $1,912; Nicholas Wrestling, $889; Tappes Sporting Goods, $2,838; and Wolverine Sporting Goods, $117.

Joseph Fedora, director of athletics, said the contracts are for equipment and supplies needed for the 1975-76 school year for most sports at both high schools and the junior high schools.

Contracts for industrial education supplies, with the total being $6,648, were awarded to 10 firms. Van Sickle was awarded a contract for $791; Broadhead Garrett, $5,814; Tele-Tyke Post, $118; McDonald Machinery, $68; Central States, $145; Rubelmann Lucas, $194; Duo-Fast, $834; Sears, Roebuck & Co., $53; Welder and Industrial Supply, $634; and Thompson Supply, $191.

Illinois Lumber Co. was selected to supply wood and building materials for the district for $1,005. All bidders indicated they would supply "all or nothing" of the materials needed. The package price from Illinois Lumber was the lowest, the board was told. Seven other bids were rejected.

The school board also voted to purchase used lumber from Robert Stanton, Jennings, Mo., to replace broken benches in the bleachers at the Granite City High School South athletic field. The lumber, in lengths of up to 16 feet is available at $4.50 for each 2 by 12 inch board.

Bills ordered paid included $61,053 from the educational fund, $6,569 from the building fund, $4,592 from the transportation fund, $99 in federal funds, and $545 from the joint agreement fund.

Robbery suspect charged

Melvin Joseph Moore, 32, of Chicago, formerly of the 900 block of Grand Avenue, Madison, has been charged with the armed robbery of the Clark Service Station at Fourth Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

According to the station attendant a man drove in and asked where the attendant was. The man allegedly held his hand inside his pocket, acting as if he had a gun, and demanded money, the attendant said.

He was given $40 and then drove toward State Street. Madison officers alerted all area police departments at 11:05 p.m. to be alert for a red 1970 Chevrolet, which was described by the service station attendant as having left the scene. A license number also was given to police.

At 11:20 p.m., a Granite City officer reported seeing the auto at Smith's Joe Liquors, Nameoki Road and St. Clair Avenue, and said a man was about to enter the store from the car.

He was arrested and handcuffed and held for Madison police. With Moore's permission, police searched his car, but were unable to find a gun.

his clothing and his car varied somewhat from the previous reports. She said the man was about 25 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall and had shoulder-length hair. He had glasses in his jacket pocket. All four descriptions matched except the man was wearing glasses or dark glasses in the prior three cases.

She said the man was wearing a police hat with a silver badge, a black nylon jacket, a dark blue shirt and had no tie. Previous reports named a blue police jacket and light blue shirt.

The habeswatter said the man left in a gold-colored 1968 or 1969 auto with an antenna in the middle of the trunk and a red light in the rear window. The car had black tires and full hubcaps, she said.

Rate hikes

which even the commission itself said was fair and reasonable back in those years. "The one exception during those past six years was 1974, when we realized the benefit of unexpectedly strong demand for our services during the first half of the year, coupled with an unusually effective job of cost control, sales and marketing effort."

In that year we were able to earn — not the level which we and outside experts have deemed necessary — but at least what the commission had said was reasonable. "But today our earnings are declining seriously. Today, we are earning less than even the commission said was reasonable, and the trend is downward."

President Olson said a continuing rise in the cost of financing telephone service, and stiff competition for long distance service, compel the company to seek an earnings level of about 9.7 per cent rather than the 8.5 per cent which the commission cited as fair and reasonable in late 1973.

"In the last 10 years," he said, "the consumer price index has risen 59 per cent. In those same 10 years, Illinois Bell's average prices have risen only 16 per cent."

"Even at the higher levels we propose, our average prices would be less than one-third higher than they were in 1964. The average price increase of other consumer services and goods since 1964 is twice that much," he asserted.

"Those facts make it evident that the telephone service will remain one of the real bargains in the budgets of families and businesses served by Illinois Bell. And we will work to keep it that way."

Olson noted that the IOC on Feb. 26 rejected the company's proposal for a cost and efficiency plan. "So we have no alternative but to pursue our need for higher revenues through a traditional rate case."

He termed it "the only other thing we can do to protect your telephone service."

Overpass

The engineering firm, in a statement issued in behalf of American Plerson, vice-president of M. W. said: "Increased public interest in the quality of life has changed the responsibilities of transportation officials. Concern for the natural and human environment and for the better urban transportation have resulted in legislation providing improved management in these areas."

"Federal legislation was passed requiring greater participation by local officials and general public in the making of urban transportation decisions. The state of Illinois and its Department of Transportation intend to meet their responsibilities through the use of the 'action plan' procedures for public involvement in the transportation decision making."

"The city officials of Granite City and its consultants, M. W. Inc., Architects-Engineers, St. Louis, wish to extend an open invitation to all interested individuals to attend the public information meeting dealing with an urban transportation decision (the overpass project)."

"The consideration of economic, social and environmental effects of this railroad overpass will bring about a more effective location for the proposed structure."

Ohio command next for General Higgins

On April 10, Major General Hugh R. Higgins of Granite City, commander of the Army Troop Support Command (TROSCOM) at 4300 Goodfellow Boulevard, St. Louis, will depart for a new assignment. He will become commander of the Defense Construction Supply Center in Columbus, Ohio, replacing Rear Admiral G. C. Heffner.

Brigadier General John E. Sterling, presently deputy commander of the Troop Support Command, will assume command of TROSCOM, which employs 2,000 civilian and military personnel in this metropolitan area and an additional 2,400 at field commands.

TROSCOM manages thousands of items of equipment required by the Army to operate in the field. Gen. Higgins, a logistician with over 33 years of service, has headed TROSCOM since December 1972. He has been active in community projects as chairman of the Federal Executive Board and member of the Board of Governors and Louis Chapter, Association of the U.S. Army.

Under his leadership, the command has expanded its sponsorship of Junior Achievement companies to a total of eight and has involved hundreds of employees in projects supporting children's activities and homes for the elderly.

Gen. Higgins has recently been working with Father Lucian Cervantes in planning for assistance to the aged through the Federal Executive Board.

Gen. Higgins and his wife, Marjorie, reside in quarters at the Granite City Army Installation.

Howlett to speak here Tuesday

Michael J. Howlett, Illinois secretary of state, will address a joint meeting of Quad-City area service clubs at the Namoki Recreation Center, 2000 Pontoon Road, at 12:15 p.m. tomorrow.

The event is to be attended by the Granite City and Madison Rotary clubs as well as representatives from other area service organizations.

Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr., state superintendent of public instruction from 1958 to 1962, arranged Howlett's visit. Wilkins is a member of the Granite City Rotary Club, a past-president of the Madison Rotary Club and a former governor of Rotary District 646.

About 150 persons are expected to attend the luncheon meeting.

Howlett is the only Democrat in history elected to four consecutive terms of state office in Illinois. He was auditor of public accounts prior to being elected secretary of state in 1972.

He and his wife, the former Helen Geary, are parents of six children and are grandparents of three.

During World War II, Howlett served in the U.S. Navy.

As regional director of the Office of Price Stabilization during the Korean conflict, he helped smash a horsemeat sales racket.

From 1952 until 1960, he was vice president of the Sun Steel Co.

On his first day in office as secretary of state, he ordered removal of all photographs of public officials from driver license stations.

In their place, a toll-free telephone number was posted so that any citizen with a complaint or suggestion could call the secretary's office in Springfield.

To design the biennial license plate for 1976, he invited all Illinois grade and high school students to participate in a contest. More than 400,000 responded. It was the first time in history that any state involved the public in the selection of color or design of its license plate.

Howlett has combined his registration and title divisions to a "Regtitle" division to speed up service and save tax money. Two new forms will replace 24 different forms used to apply for vehicle license plates and certificates of title.

For greater convenience to the public, Secretary Howlett opened all 89 Downstate fulltime stations on Saturdays, and closed them on Mondays, making a Tuesday through Saturday operation schedule.

A special driver education program for senior citizens, first introduced in six Northeastern Illinois counties, is being expanded by Howlett statewide.

Cong. Price heads Policy committee

Cong. Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Ill.) was unanimously reelected last week as the Democratic Steering and Policy Committee. Region Four comprises the states of Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana.

Price was nominated by Rep. Carl Perkins of Kentucky, dean of the Kentucky delegation, for the post.

The Steering and Policy Committee is responsible for development of policies and platforms for House Democrats as well as committee assignments.

Students to tell it like it is — with adults absent

Student representatives of 18 high schools in eight area counties will attend a workshop Tuesday, March 25, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to draft recommendations for "progress in matters of major social interest."

The workshop is being cosponsored by the East St. Louis regional office of the Illinois Department of Corrections and by the Human Services Student Committee of the SIUE Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center.

According to the SIUE committee, the purpose of the conference is "to give students opportunities to express their resourcefulness and leadership without being inhibited by adults."

Topics for the workshop were selected by the students themselves, with nearly 30 subjects under the general headings of "sex, drugs, school, community and inter-personal relations."

The conference is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. March 25 in the Peck Building. Each high school is to send five representatives, and SIUE students who are majoring in human services also will be participating. Counties which will be represented by high school students are: Madison, St. Clair, Bond, Jersey, Clinton, Washington, Monroe, and Randolph.

The regional workshop is being preceded by conferences for students in the individual counties, and it will be followed by a state conference this summer in Springfield, with student delegates from five regions.

Final recommendations will be developed at the state conference and distributed to state agencies, legislators, schools, churches, city councils, law enforcement agencies and other groups designated by the student delegates.

The program was begun by the Illinois Department of Corrections as a pilot project last year.

At the state conference, a mandate was given urging continuance of the program this year, according to Lee Ostrander, an officer of the regional correctional program for juveniles sponsored by the Department of Corrections.

Members of the Human Services Student Committee at SIUE are: Sandy Deeke, Belleville; Steve Clement, O'Fallon; Bob Roe, Collinsville; Steve Bowker, Alton; Harvey Reif, Alton, and Laine Clemens, St. Louis.

University band concert

The program will include The Star's Farewell by Rimsky-Korsakov, Three Sketches for Winds by Clare Grundman, Finale from Symphony No. 5 by Shostakovich, and Original Suite for Military Band by Gordon Jacob.

Following intermission, the band will play Chante des Bateliers du Volga by Igor Stravinsky, Prelude and Fugue, Opus 46, No. 1, by Gabriel Piere, Morgen ("Tomorrow") Opus 27, No. 4 by Richard Strauss, the Rakes of Malow by LeRoy Anderson, Latin Elegy by William E. ## ERA seen as a threat to family life

To the Editor:

I have a copy of a letter sent to one of our state representatives under a letterhead, "Illinois ERA Coalition."

Down the left side of this stationery is a listing of the organizations that support the Equal Rights Amendment.

The organizations are: American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees in Illinois, A.F. CIO, Church Women United in Illinois, Common Cause, Illinois State Bar Association, Illinois Education Association, Illinois Nurses Association, Illinois Women's Political Caucus, League of Women Voters of Illinois, Legislative Consortium of Illinois, Conference of Churches, Men for ERA, National Organization for Women (NOW) and YMCA (Metropolitan).

Politics do make strange bedfellows.

To readers I suggest that if you are a member of any of these organizations and that you oppose the ERA, you should get in touch with them and demand an explanation.

The largest financial backers for the pro-ERA are Rockefeller Foundation and Playboy Magazine. Playboy Magazine is a very influential anti-family publication.

The Rockefeller and Playboy money will soon be supplemented by federal funds to push the "liberation" of women from the home to join the work force and thus opt out of the role of mother.

The "women libbers" feel we need to demand that the ancient and honorable occupation of motherhood fall into disrepute, and in the women commit themselves to other occupations, whether they want to or not.

We appear to be on the verge of a major restructuring of society, and the destruction of American family life as we know it.

The passing of the ERA amendment would accomplish all of this and more.

If you are against this it is urgent that you let your state representatives know how you feel about it.

Unconcern about underground water

To the Editor:

There still seems to be much lack of concern in solving the Doherty Slough flood problem, simply by some of the owners of the slough.

The most important part of the program is a ditch that the state planned starting at Glen Lane (Maryville Road) going east and south into the flood plain which is in moratorium and ending at the first pump in the slough.

The state of Illinois spent $150,000, which included two pumps and drainage, but the local government, Namekigi Township, and East Side Levee officials, never obtained the easements to put in the ditch.

Granite City assisted in order to help its citizens of the Glenview Subdivision, since that is a part of Doherty Slough as seen on a 1905 map. We thank Granite City for the attention of the problem.

The Senate and House of Illinois in a resolution in May 1970 stated clearly that all right-of-way easements for the ditch should be obtained by the local governments by agreement or otherwise.

Easements that were given were donated several years ago to the State of Illinois Division of Highways, with no price tag attached, from owners of the slough who cared about the people's problem.

The drainage plan has been halted in part purposely by people who do not want to see us helped, because they think it will damage the chances for the hillside drainage program which is many years off.

If they are proud of themselves for not cooperating to help their fellowman. The shoe may be on the other foot someday.

It's an enigma to me. Most people would jump at the prospect of getting state money for a local problem, but they seem set on keeping the swamp waters in our homes.

Not giving a needed easement, it's building an earthen dam topped with sandbags east of the Alton and Southern Railroad to block the natural drainage of Doherty and also Parkway Estates.

It's hard to believe, but these people are not acting morally in themselves.

The latest news from the governor's aides is that they are considering a much larger pump in the slough to pump all of the ground water that is causing homes to crack and sink.

Thank you, Lionel Portell, Granite City street superintendent. I find you trusting and a good friend of the people.

The fighting leadership of "Bud" Lester Beyer of Lynch Avenue and Robert Knapp of Roney Drive and other citizens that keep the project alive are well appreciated.

I have written to Congressman Melvin Price as follows:

"After these many years of working together for drainage, flood insurance, etc., I feel you are very close to our problems and to Doherty Slough."

"You tell it like it is, and I do. So, in answer to inquiry about the 'acting' federal insurance administrator, Robert Hunter, I respond that 'acting' is the right word."

"Where in the world is Mr. George B. Hunter, who told us we do qualify and would be covered by flood insurance with the federal type of problem?"

"After viewing Mr. Hunter's comments on this matter, we are convinced he got a wrong answer. His file evidence is wrong."

"Evidence in his file established first that the Mississippi River did not approach flood stage in 1973-74. That was all we needed to read to see this was dirty politics again. We all know about the great Mississippi flood of 1973.

"The river reached flood stage on March 10 and remained in flood stage for 77 days. On April 28, a record stage was measured at 44 feet. Flood stage is 30 feet."

"In 1974, the Mississippi was at flood stage in February and May. Our area, Doherty Slough, lies in the river floodplain. It is a natural water channel."

"We contend that a standard flood insurance policy will insure against any flood loss caused by the overflow of inland (Doherty) or tidal waters, and the rapid accumulation of surface waters from any source, or mudslides which are caused or precipitated by accumulation of water on or under the ground."

"In the case of Doherty, it is evident we had both when the new drainage occurred. As you can see, it states this, very clearly in the policy."

"I am sure the untruths of our case have a lot to do with future development. The Tri-Cities feel boxed in. While I am all for progress of new development, I can not stand to watch our area be abused by denials to the overtaxed policyholders."

"If the government fathers of our area are sincere about wanting development in the proper fashion, I would hope they will work together to bring about the much-needed hillside drainage program."

"I would also hope that the Army Corps of Engineers takes over operation and maintenance of the upcoming Metropolitan East Drainage District should be the agent responsible to the Corps to see that problems are solved after investigations are made by trustees of the district."

"Since the state has agreed to be the sponsor of the Hillside Drainage Act, I can see no reason why the program cannot skip right along."

"In the interim, the flood insurance must be honored until the hillside drainage program is completed. Not only will it show good faith to the home owner who is losing, but also to Washington, D.C., as the very reason to begin Hillside here."

Ask IRS

Q. What is the 1976 Presidential Election Campaign Fund checkoff?

A. All taxpayers, except non-resident aliens, can designate $1, or $2 on a joint return, to the Campaign Fund on line 8 of both forms 1040 and 1040A.

On a joint return, wives and husbands may each make independent choices regarding the Fund. Participation in the check-off neither increases an individual's taxes nor decreases any refund. Taxpayers should not send the IRS cash or checks for the Fund. By law, all money designated for the Campaign Fund will go into a General Accounting Fund for distribution to eligible political candidates for President in 1976. Taxpayers who did not earmark $1 of their 1975 taxes are eligible so if they wish by filing Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, before December 31, 1975.

Abandonment of trust fund would wreck Social Security

More and more economists are forced to admit that the Social Security System in the United States of America is heading into bankruptcy.

Social Security trust funds currently total $45.9 billion, but that is far from the comfortable "reserve" it is supposed to be. By conservative estimates, the government will have to start dipping into the reserve next year at a rate which would exhaust it in 15 years. More gloomy forecasts of the outlook for inflation and recession could raise the deficit to the point where the reserve would be exhausted by 1980 — five years from now.

Congress must recognize the implications of these projections and put Social Security's fiscal house in order. It is hard to see how this can be accomplished without remodeling the program from the ground up. In the scope of its benefits and eligibility, it has strayed too far from the concept that brought it to life 40 years ago, as a means for American workers to supplement their pensions, savings and other retirement income by paying into an "insurance" plan during their productive years.

That concept is still good, but it is not going to work if Congress keeps burdening the system with commitments the system cannot keep. That is what it has done in providing for benefits to increase automatically with the cost of living while making no allowance for fluctuations in the amount being paid into the system.

The current combination of inflation and recession in our economy is producing one crisis. Benefits are climbing, while high unemployment reduces collections from payroll taxes. Another deeper crisis looms further in the future, when the recent decline in the birthrate begins to affect the size of our labor force in relation to the number of Americans who will be drawing Social Security benefits — or expecting to.

It has been suggested that the trust fund be abandoned altogether, and that Social Security simply be added to the federal budget to be financed each year out of income taxes. If Congress goes down that path it will have to admit that it has wrecked Social Security and is deciding to put all Americans over 65 on welfare. That, in a word, is what such a proposal really means.

Giving American workers a chance to build up a personal account in Social Security to help them through retirement was an honest program. If they find on retirement that their personal account does not exist, and they are dependent instead on Congress to vote them a welfare check in their old age, they are going to feel cheated, and they'll be right.

Rebates for senior citizens were not affected by veto

A reminder is in order for persons 65 or older or disabled that they still qualify for state rebates on property tax payments.

Some concern has been expressed by State Revenue Department officials and legislators that publicity surrounding Gov. Daniel Walker's veto of another different senior citizen program might deter some eligible person from applying for rebates under the "circuit breaker" program enacted by the legislature in 1971.

This program remains valid and 1975 application forms for tax rebates are being mailed to more than 75,000 elderly or disabled persons who have received rebates in previous years.

Eligible persons who have not applied for rebates in the past should write to the State Revenue Department or call to toll-free number 800-355-7272 for instructions on how to apply. A copy of the latest tax bill must accompany the application.

In addition to the state tax rebate, persons 65 or older who own their homes can file an application with the county clerk for a homestead tax exemption. This application must include a copy of the deed to the property, copies of the applicant's Medicare card, birth certificate or baptismal certificate and the index number from their latest tax receipt.

Crime prevention is complex

By CLARENCE M. KELLEY
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

The persistent growth of crime provokes many persons to look for scapegoats.

This is understandable. Crime has become a gnawing social disorder of such proportions that it threatens personal security as much as any problem of our time.

To many citizens, crime is by far the greatest long-range danger.

Job and financial security to them is of no lasting comfort when their possessions, their community, their loved ones, and they themselves are continually subject to loss and harm from lawlessness.

It is doubly disturbing to realize that when a crime strikes, there is a good chance he will be armed with a gun or other deadly weapon.

Our frustrations and fears of crime, however, should not lead us to emotional judgments and rash faultfinding.

The police, especially, have received an undeserved share of abuse for the failure to control crime.

Law enforcement agencies are only the entrance to a long path of complex institutions known as the criminal justice system along which some solution to the problem of crime will most likely be found.

This is not to suggest that the police are blameless or that other criminal justice agencies—the courts, the penal system, the probation and parole agencies, and the rehabilitation programs—are at fault.

I do propose that improvements and coordination throughout the system are necessary to at least slow the march of crime in our society.

In recent years, the performance of the law enforcement profession has been substantially enhanced by concerted public attention to fulfilling the need for such personnel, training, facilities, equipment and technology.

 In Loving Memory of CLIFFORD HANKS I have lost my life's companion A life linked with my own. And every day I miss him more As I walk through life alone. No one knows the silent heartaches Only those who have lost can tell. On the grief I bear in silence For the one I loved so well. I never knew that hearts could ache With such a bitter pain, Longing for a vanishing face To hear his voice again. I never knew that nights could be So lonely cold and dim. But I have learned so many things Because of losing him. If all the world were mine to give I would give it all and more To see his face I loved so dear Come smiling through my door. MR. AND MRS. HAROLD R. SMITH, whose wedding took place at Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church, 25th and Ohio streets. The bride is the former Miss Sylvia Joan Dorste, a daughter of George Dorste of Madison and Mrs. Virginia Pruitt, 2577 Iowa St. (Mercury Studio)

Miss Sylvia Dorste and Harold R. Smith are wed

The wedding of Miss Sylvia Joan Dorste and Harold Ray Smith was solemnized on Feb. 14 at Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church, 25th and Ohio streets. A program of wedding music preceded the double ring ceremony, performed at noon by the Rev. Clifton Gallier.

Parents of the bride are George Anthony Dorste, 1109 Iowa St., Madison, and Mrs. Virginia Pruitt, 2577 Iowa St., Granite City. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, 2412 Delmar Ave.

A bridal gown of soft satin, designed with an Empire bodice, was worn by the bride.

Lace accented the high collar and cuffs of the long sleeves. A satin ribbon encircled the high rise waistline and lace ruffles edged the hemline and cathedral train.

She wore a petal headpiece to secure her bouffant veil and she carried a heart-shaped bouquet of pink carnations, festooned with long pink streamers. Maid of honor Miss Nancy Woods and the bridesmaid, Miss Debbie Pruitt, were gownned alike in mint green floor-length dresses.

Decorative lace traced the fitted bodices, defined the high necklines and formed tightly fitted cuffs on the long sleeves. Each carried a colonial bouquet of mint green carnations.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's mother immediately following the ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith are graduates of Granite City High School South. The bride is employed at Burger-Chef. Her husband works at American Steel Foundries.

They now reside in Granite City.

Kim Lindner becomes Mrs. Charles Wilkins

Miss Kim Lindner, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lindner, 2521 Adams St., and Charles E. Wilkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkins, 2804 Saratoga St., exchanged wedding vows on March 1 at Suburban Baptist Church, 2500 St. Clair Ave.

The Rev. Bob F. Worley officiated at the double ring ceremony at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

For her wedding, the former Miss Lindner chose a gown of floral voile in pastel blue and white, made with a smocked bodice and matching shawl.

She held a bouquet of white carnations interspersed with blue baby's breath.

Mrs. Gary Foutch, a sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a two-piece ensemble of yellow and white dotted Swiss.

Gary Foutch attended the ceremony as best man.

Guests greeted the newlyweds at a reception at Armvold Post 51 following the service.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School South. The bride was employed at the U. S. Army Aviation Systems Command in St. Louis.

Her husband worked for Sidcor Supply Co. in Granite City until being transferred to the Kansas City, Mo., office. They now reside in Kansas City.
